The 1963 ZELIE ANN is the 40th anniversary edition. The end sheets are designed to show a sampling of the editions of the yearbook since 1923. Since that book, there has been only one year in which there was no edition published. There have been numerous changes in the content and layout of the books. The first yearbooks consisted mainly of formal, posed pictures and modified write-ups which ran from one-line poems to full page copy blocks. In this year's book the activities have been portrayed through a quantity of quality pictures. Through the years, senior class wills and prophecies along with pages of snapshots have been replaced by greater coverage of the activities of the school and its students. This gradual change has brought about an increase in the number of pages required to give the complete picture of the school year.

You will be introduced to the content of the book by our international mascot appearing throughout the book in various situations and environments.

In the 1963 ZELIE ANN the staff feels that it has accomplished its goal: a complete and accurate picture of school life at Zelenople High School.

Remember this, Mrs. Wilson? Here are our seventh grade officers perched on the monkey bars in 1958. Who would have thought that the same picture would appear in 1963.

We gained text book knowledge from you it's true, but most important we learned what it meant to have respect for our fellow students.

This familiar relaxed pose always eased the tenseness when we entered the room to take those dreaded tests.

THIS IS WHY IT IS YOU!

Do you, Mrs. Wilson, remember the date 476 B. C. ? How could we, the class of 1963, forget that date, or the others that you stressed to us in seventh grade.

You, our sole choice, have left clearly in our minds not only dates, but also the many fast-moving lively classes in ancient history while writing our version of the Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire. Halloween, Christmas, and Easter bring other memories — art class with Mrs. Wilson and numerous pictures we could never get in proportion. Our music appreciation was enhanced by you and the faithful brown piano; probably yours vanished by the sour notes we insisted on singing.

While we reminisce, we recall our first dance. Oh, what fun we had when you tried to teach us the two-step! Seldom were there times when your patience ran short, although some of us insisted on running in the halls, whispering loudly, and having dirty faces.

Mrs. Wilson, you were the one who prepared us for that big jump to high school. Your lectures, which at times you may have thought were going in one ear and out the other, were taken very seriously because we respected your opinions and tried to abide by them. It's true we'll remember the date 476 B. C., but more importantly we'll remember the help you've given us in adjusting to the adult world.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS', ADMINISTRATORS

BOTTOM ROW: E. Ziegler, S. Wilson, E. Luntz, R. Werner, E. Pfeffer. TOP ROW: C. Beighey, J. Creeks, K. Barker, W. Paul, B. Brown, R. Shremp. Missing from Picture: H. Foreman, J. Wise, P. Cleland, C. Hohmann, P. Pflug.

The Connoquenessing Valley Joint School Board, which is a part of the Southwest Butler County Joint School District, is an organization formed to administer the state's system of public education. Confronted with many problems accompanying this administration, the school board exercises its best judgment in solving them.

Making the school budget is the most important function of the board. If educational materials and transportation are to be provided, the school directors must make provisions for them in the budget. The maintenance of school buildings is also included in the budget. Other duties of the board are fixing the length of the school term, adopting textbooks, appointing or dismissing superintendents, principals, and teachers, locating new buildings, levying taxes, adopting courses of study, and fixing salaries of teachers or other appointees of the school directors.

In the hiring of teachers, secretaries, custodians, bus drivers and other school employees, the school board has set certain qualifications which an applicant must meet before he is hired for the position for which he applies.

Provision is also made for teachers and principals to execute the board's rules and regulations concerning pupils. Among these rules is the regulation of pupils' societies, clubs, and other extracurricular events, and of fire and air raid drills.

Public-spirited individuals constituting the CVJ School Board have faith in public schools and education, are able to work well with others, possess unquestioned honesty and integrity, and have sound judgment. Receiving no pay for their services, the members of the board give of their time and talents to make the community a better place in which to live.

INFLUENCE IS SENSED THROUGHOUT AREA

Dr. Harris Reynolds

Mr. Oliver Cashdollar

Under the direction of Dr. Reynolds and Mr. Cashdollar, the Southwest Butler County Schools were operated this year. Zelienville High School was under the direct supervision of Mr. Clouse, principal. This operation included making many decisions which contributed to the welfare of the schools and the students who attended them. Not all of the students could understand why some rules, as a result of these decisions, were put into effect. Before deciding on an issue, however, the supervisors viewed the question from all sides and discarded it if they felt it would not benefit the majority of students.

Dealing with individual students was necessitated when these rules were infringed upon. The problem was discussed by the administration and the student, and the answer to the problem was brought about by calm reasoning.

Always putting the majority of students first, the supervisors were contributors to the success of the schools.

Mr. Ronald Clouse

BEHIND THE SCENE STAFFS EASE LIFE

The students met their nurses, Mrs. Long, a new face on the staff, and Mrs. Schlag, when they were called for their annual weighing and measuring. A friendly smile and cheery word greeted each student, whether he appeared for an eye and ear examination, for a tuberculin test, or for immediate care because of an accident or sudden illness. Keeping health records and charts demonstrated their secretarial ability. Floor duty for the nurses not only included the high school, but other schools in the jointure. These two diligent and hard working people deserved the appreciation and praise of the whole student body.

Mrs. Olive Baker

Mrs. Margaret Eiler

Bookkeeping, typing, and numerous other tasks were performed by the secretaries of the school. Upon entering the main office, one found Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Eiler keeping records of the financial condition of the school or typing very speedily to keep the books up to date. Any time purchase orders were needed or magazine sales were recorded, the two different office workers were always available to help. Many papers were typed and stenciled for the use of teachers or students. On Fridays these co-workers were seen in the ticket booth selling tickets to all the Golden Bear fans for the football games.

Through the efforts of Mr. Jack McMichael and Mr. Hubert Myers, the custodians of Zelenople High School, the school and its grounds were kept looking neat and clean all through the year. Cutting the grass certainly added to its appearance. Preventing injuries incurred by falls, the removal of snow and ice from the sidewalks was greatly appreciated. Raking and burning fall leafage was also one of their duties. The janitors' labors inside the building, such as cleaning floors, windows, and blackboards, gained equal esteem. As another service to the student body, they set up chairs in the auditorium for assemblies. Aiding various classes with decorations for dances was also appreciated very much. Although a school may operate without the assistance of some others, the custodians are an essential part of any school.

REFLECTIONS . . .

I am known by various names.

To the members of the schoolboard I am "student body."

To the study hall teacher I am "Quiet down and turn around in back."

If a buddy hails me, "Hey, wait up! " I wait.

I answer to almost anything.

I know the high school.

The high school is tradition. It is pride and loyalty.

Its face is the face of tomorrow.

FOR, BY, AND ABOUT . . .

Books and bookshelves, words
Words words words in prose and in rhyme
The memory of time.
I blink down at them.
They stare back, imprisoned on their page,
Daring me to discover their meaning.
young sanguine, desperate jubilant, frivolous genuine,
careless confident, obstinate confused, watchful silent,
thoughtful . . . .
What do they mean?
Obviously
They mean me.

Truth
Irrevocable truth
That is a textbook.
Or, can truth be irrevocable? No matter really.
Learn the facts. Make them stick.
 $C = \pi r^2$ , George Washington, Magna Charta, 476, Gettysburg, Fulton
Learn them well. They will make your parents proud.

YOUTH

Take a dash of knowledge.
Season well with opinion.
Add a pinch of curiosity, willingness, indifference.
Finally, Let thought run freely in and out of the mixture.
Do not stir.           Observe closely.
                            This is a classroom

Four years, four years of trying to learn, trying to be better than,
and of resenting
And all the while, I didn't realize, all the while,
the magic was there.
The magic that, like a fine surgeon has deftly opened my mind to the world.

SENIORS DISPLAY

The Senior Class worked hard to present an excellent three act comedy, The Man Who Came to Dinner, for the entertainment of the student body and community. Under the direction of Miss Stout, opening night arrived. The Class of '63 offered its full support. After many long practices the labor of all committees concerned was put to a final testing before a full house. On Friday, November 16, the curtain rose and the first act was underway.

Sheridan Whiteside, a well-known celebrity, was injured on the doorstep of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley and was forced to remain at their residence. Mr. Whiteside became entangled in a love affair between his secretary and a newspaper man; he began to use all the artifice he knew to discourage this romance. The audience was brought to a standstill at the hilarious antics of this one man and his colorful friends.

TALENT IN 'MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER'

Terrified Miss Preen looks into Banjo's flirtatious eyes, as she realizes anything can happen when one is working for Sheridan Whiteside.

Banjo's outlandish personality overwhelms Sarah and the good doctor, as she is praised for her culinary skills.

Mr. Stanley's "strange" sister has finally exposed the closely guarded skeleton in the family closet.

Maggie's boyfriend is too startled to interfere when Beverly Carlton charges in and sweeps Maggie into his arms.

2:30A.M. — At last, Nanny arrives.

FINLAND AND AMERICA EXCHANGE IDEAS

Hey, Nanny, Zelig's goal is the other way.

English 12 class isn't usually this peaceful, as Nanny soon found out.

Nanny, always ready to help at home, receives a smile of thanks from Mrs. Henderson.

The Senior Class of '63 is proud to have had the first American Field Service exchange student in Zeligople High School — Miss Nanny Hedman of Oulu, Finland.

Throughout the school year she was active in all phases of school life: as a top-notch student, as an enthusiastic fan for Zelig's sports, as a participant in intramurals, and as an actress in The Senior Class Play, THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER.

Soon after Nanny arrived, she realized that teenagers did not all have new cars, and they didn't spend all day having fun. Nanny said, "We walk more at home, but in the United States you get your exercise in the way you dance." The Hendersons were amazed how easily Nanny settled into life in Zeligople and will have fond memories of the year she spent as a member of their family.

DANCERS CHARMED WITH BLUE MOON

Excitement mounts as the procession of candidates enters, and Denny approaches the lovely girl who will become the next May Queen. Envious glances focus upon this line of radiant beauty as Denny escorts the queen to the throne.

ABOVE LEFT: Only "Once in a Blue Moon" can a girl be May Queen and have the dance floor to herself.

ABOVE: The dancers break away from the formality of the prom long enough to do the number one dance, the twist.

AT LEFT: The shining moon throne, glittering stars, blue balloons, and multi-colored streamers stage the background for the crowning of May Queen LuAnn and her court, Carol, Bonlee, Linda, and Karen.

Proof-reading and correcting engage the time of the literary staff: Lynne, Lola, Carol, literary editor, Debbie, Eleanor, Janice, and Sally.

ZELIE ANN FRUSTRATED

During the past forty years various annual staffs have given their all in order to produce an annual which was a credit to their class. Each of these staffs had a particular task to perform.

Class and club write-ups and identifying pictures were some of the duties of the literary staff.

The sports staff was responsible for the entire sports section of the annual. Their work involved gathering the pictures and scores of football, basketball, and track events.

Associated with drawing the posters for the sales campaign and the art work in the annual, the art staff always found some way of keeping busy.

The chief concerns of the typing staff were accuracy and efficiency.

Distribution of year books and the sales campaign kept the business managers occupied.

All this work was supervised by the editors, and when the work of the staffs was put together, the result was a fine volume to represent the school and the Senior Class.

The two Lindas work industriously on layouts for the dummy.

Pat, art editor, Vivian, and Cheryl, members of the art staff, aid the business managers, Denny, Mary, and Linda, in planning the sales campaign.

BY DEADLINES, LAYOUTS, AND FINANCES

Donna, chief typist, points out ways of saving time to Ronnie, Sarah, Carla, and Marilyn, as the typing staff rushes to meet a deadline.

Les, sports editor, Harry, Tom and Bill gather scores and other information needed for the sports section.

COUNCIL INITIATES

The Seventh Grade Student Council is the means of government for the Home School. The members are busy planning the dances and assemblies for the year.

This year Student Council maintained a high order of government. Beset by the traffic problem in the halls, the Special Problems Committee worked diligently on this distressing subject. The Ways and Means Committee, confronted with the task of raising money, arranged for Student Council to sponsor a dance and to sell food at games. The responsibility of the Public Relations Committee was to inform the student body of the activities of the government. Planning for assemblies, the duty of the Assembly Committee, was the Council's greatest task. The Student Council made important decisions concerning dance sponsors and selling food at games, proving themselves an able governing body.

Les relinquishes the hard-earned money of Student Council's Ways and Means Committee to Linda, chairman of the Public Relations Committee. With the profits from the Student Council dance and other money-making projects, assemblies are purchased for the student body.

While choosing a special assembly for presentation, the Assembly Committee of Student Council first considers the interests of the student body. The cost of assemblies is the greatest expense of Student Council.

Denny, Pres.; Bill, V. Pres.; Carol, Cor. Sec.; Linda, Rec. Sec.; and Les, Treas. keep in close contact with Mr. Jamison to see everything is run smoothly.

The perplexing problem of traffic in the halls is one of the many obstacles that the Special Problems Committee is faced with. Confronting them also is the preparation of the school calendar.

To the many readers who poured delightedly over each copy, every edition of the Zelie Hi-Lites was a "special edition." It was the only news publication solely for the entertainment and enlightenment of the students of Zelenople High School. Though the compliments on the paper's quality often went to the homeroom reporters, it was the staff and the adviser who actually deserved the credit. They decided on the format, gathered enough material to fill it, and, eventually, put the paper together coherently. This past year the Hi-Lites was blessed with an especially creative and energetic staff. Their interest was reflected in every copy of the paper and made reading more interesting all year.

At noon students have an opportunity to buy Zelie Hi-Lites from Cheryl, art editor, and Marianne, assistant art editor.

EXTRA!!! ZELIE HI-LITES ACCENTS NEWS

Dave, business manager, and Bill, assistant manager, supervise the printing of the paper. They also manage the money and the sale of the Hi-Lites.

The editors, Barb and Carol, prepare the dummy and once again meet the deadline. The Zelie Hi-Lites is made available to the student body through the time and effort of the two editors and their staff.

The typists of the Zelie Hi-Lites are typing quickly and accurately to have the paper out soon.

As a service to others, the club members visit with the aged folks at the Old People's Home. These members are reading and talking with a few of the residents.

TIME DONATED TO COMMUNITY SERVICE

The aim of the Tri-Hi-Y, one of the most outstanding and successful clubs of the school, is to promote high standards of Christian character.

This service club has many activities and programs which extend high ideals throughout the home, school, and community. The Tri-Hi-Y volunteered its aid willingly to the community Heart Fund Drive. Generous food donations were collected to fill baskets for needy families on Thanksgiving and Christmas by the girls. As a service to the school, the club presented a religious Christmas assembly. Each week members donated their time and service to a local bank by serving coffee to raise funds for a worthwhile donation to World Service. A most inspiring candlelight service was sponsored by the old members for the initiation of the new members.

The Tri-Hi-Y officers, adviser, and members displayed a year of true service through clean words, clean thoughts, and clean actions.

On Saturday mornings Zelienople citizens may greet Tri-Hi-Y girls serving coffee to the customers at a local bank. Plans are being discussed for the continuation of this practice.

BY TRI-HI-Y

JUNIOR TRI-HI-Y OFFICERS: Ann Roach, President; Patty Meyers, Secretary; Mary Mulvey, Treasurer; Jackie Kearns, Vice-President; Patty Stenzel, Chaplain.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y officers, Cheryl, Janet, Lyda, Eleanor, and Janice, light their candles from the master candle in preparation for the Candlelight Service.

Many youngsters in the Children's Hospital will be joyful over the Christmas holidays when these gifts reach them.

Active Tri-Hi-Y members aid the community by canvassing for the Heart Fund Drive.

Basketball is one of the many rough sports that GLC members participate in.

The enlargement of the food stand at the football field was a contribution of the Girls' Leaders' Club. Many classes and clubs have benefited from this generous donation.

G. L. C. PROVIDES ADDITION TO FOODSTAND

"Use two hands. Don't hit the ball down; hit it up," cried "Ma" at many of the Girls' Leaders' Club meetings. Volleyball was one of the many sports that the members of Girls' Leaders' Club enjoyed. The girls worked together this year selling food at the first football game. Enlarging the foodstand at the football field was only one of the many projects of the year. From selling programs at all of the football games the lettermen's sweaters were bought. So it was both work and fun that made this club one of the most active clubs in the school.

The proceeds from the program sales at football games are used in the purchase of lettermen's sweaters, which are given each year as a tribute to the senior athletes of our school.

These cool cats are members of the GLC enjoying the annual Beatnik Party. Giving them an opportunity to become pseudo cigarette smokers and bongo-beaters, the party is a swingin' affair. While some beatniks are scoffing, others are working out.

Adding to community spirit, FHA members carol on snow-covered streets, giving all donations to the Lutheran Children's Home.

Basketball is only one of the action and fun-filled games that are played by FHA girls on the annual Activities Night.

CAROLING, COOKING SHOW F. H. A. TALENTS

As another phase of club activity, the girls learn the practical art of tasty meat cookery.

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly," and that's just what the Future Homemakers of America did. At Christmas time the members of this domestic girls' club were probably seen decorating the halls to instill Christmas spirit in the whole student body and spreading goodwill throughout the community by singing Christmas carols.

This popular club, comprised of fifty-eight members, planned a variety of events throughout the year.

The dedicated adviser and industrious officers strived for the welfare and well-being of the girls and promoted good grooming and good housekeeping.

In April all new and old members joined in a formal procession for the official initiation of the future leaders.

The Future Homemakers of America have maintained their high standards and qualities.

FHA members, Carla, Donna, and Bernice bedeck the school at yule time with creative decorations, adding to the Christmas spirit of both students and faculty.

Community and school projects were given top priority at the monthly meetings of the National Junior Society, and the National Honor Society, composed of seniors, toured colleges and talked with the Society's alumni concerning college prospects. The members, chosen for scholarship, leadership, character, and service, also played active games of volleyball and basketball after their business meetings. These all-around good students proved that scholarship and extra-curricular activities may be combined successfully.

PICTURES AND PAWNS CREATE HOBBIES

Once a month a group of students, with the help of Mr. Skurcenski, performed battles of the board and brain. Members of the Chess Club enjoyed the hours of thoughtful concentration and deliberation about their moves and the fast-thinking of the competitive game. The club aimed to teach good strategy on the chess board plus perceptive thinking concerning chess moves.

Anyone with even a casual interest in photography was welcomed in Photo Club. Mr. Bruker, the club's founder and advisor, brought his skill and professional knowledge of photography to the meetings. Club members learned to take pictures with regard for content and effect and then learned to develop them. Photo Club has proven the start of many an engrossing hobby.

Joe, Jim, Les, and Donna set up the equipment for the Safe Drivers' Club meeting.

Safe drivers invaded the parking lot and school once a month to elect the "Driver of the Month." The person who received this award was given a pin and ten gallons of gasoline as his reward. Safety while driving and ability to drive without accidents were two of the qualifications needed to become the safe driver of the month. Movies and guest speakers constituted the club's agenda for the year. Police Chief Bozett helped to promote safety among the members of the club. Even though this was a fairly new club, it grew to be one of the strongest organizations in the school.

Associated with the National Association of Math Clubs in the United States, the Math Club provided additional mathematical knowledge to those exceptional and interested math students. Under the guidance of Mr. Nelson and Mr. Parker, members not only obtained knowledge, but helped any classmate who needed assistance in this subject. Sets, a modern approach to math, was the club's main topic of the year. Math Club members must have maintained a B+ average in math and a B average in all other courses. The enjoyment that the members derived from their monthly meetings proved that math can be fun.

PATROL, CHEERERS SPARK SAFETY, SPIRIT

Any observant bus student was likely to have seen two exemplary students who were trying to keep order and have peace reign on the bus. These two peace-loving individuals, wearing white belts and shiny silver badges, were members of a corps called the Bus Patrol. These diplomats, fun-loving and occasionally stern, were advised by Mr. Stahlman. Although they may have been disliked by the boisterous element on the bus, they were conscientious, responsible students who tried to do their job well. All the drivers were grateful for the co-operation given them by the Bus Patrol members.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders tackled the job of supplying the team with backbone and support. These six ambitious, athletic girls, with the aid of the excited spectators, gave the team that extra surge of power needed for a mighty touchdown or winning basket.

The cheerleaders made up their own original cheers and routines, spending many hours of strenuous practice perfecting them.

To the delight of many, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders displayed excellent sportsmanship, gave the team pep, and kept the spectators interested in the various sports activities.

FOOTBALL, ASSEMBLIES, SPRING CONCERT

As the band finishes football season, they continue working diligently on concert music. The concert, highlight of the year, demands the band's time, talent, and co-operation.

The band members are ardent supporters of the football team and do their best to keep the boys and the crowd in high spirits during the whole game.

Everybody loves a parade, and the whole town thrills to the music of the band marching down Main Street. On such special occasions the band donates its time and talent to the community, much to the enjoyment of all.

OCCUPIES THE BAND'S TIME AND TALENT

Though the members may be tired after a football game, the band is obliged to keep in step and "look sharp" while marching off the field.

After working up a hearty appetite during their half-time activities, the band members converge on the food stand, bent on soothing their parched throats and empty stomachs.

*MAJORETTE

The lights were dimmed; the conductor walked across the stage. Mr. Verner appeared with his baton, raised his arms, and suddenly the spring mood had arrived. This festive season was ushered in by the melodious voices of the three choruses—Boys', Girls', and Mixed. After many months of work and extra practices, the sound of spring was presented to the students, friends, and relatives, as they gathered in the auditorium to hear these choruses.

During the year Mr. Verner's choruses performed in the annual Christmas Assembly, helping to create and maintain the Christmas feeling. Their cheerful voices brought forth the sacred idea of Christmas.

The choruses combined to make this year one of the best. The extra practices and long hours were certainly appreciated as the songsters helped to make 1963 complete with their fine entertainment which created a grand finale.

The accompanists worked diligently to assist Mr. Verner in direction of the choral numbers. Here Debbie Roach practices one of the numbers to be used by the chorus in concert.

This year versatile juniors were active in all fields of endeavor. In sports the boys piled up yardage and points for the school's teams. The Junior Class play contributed to the funds and left the cast ready for Broadway. As juniors in the past, this class worked hard to earn much needed money. Members of this class could be found contributing to the activities in all school organizations. Magazine sales, a complete class effort, brought in the majority of the money. The plea for subscriptions was heard near and far. As a service to the spectators, as well as the treasury, food was sold at the Union football game. Fun for everyone was provided by the junior-sponsored dance. As the highlight of the year, the spotlight fell on the glamorous Junior-Senior Prom. However, all was not fun and fancy for the juniors. They studied assiduously in algebra II, shorthand, and le français. This year, for the first time, a junior class was introduced to the mysteries of chemistry.

SOPHOMORES ATTEMPT TO SANDWICH IN

It was a pleased, though mildly shocked, class of tenth graders that began this school year. After all, to talk about being a sophomore and to actually be one are two different things. Tenth grade is senior high and it's a little hard to know the feeling unless one has experienced it himself. The class of '65 thought it felt great!

Scholastically, the sophomore year was not an easy one. At one end of the hall could be heard "Parlez-vous français, monsieur?" From the other end came "What ho, Brutus." These intelligent phrases were greeted with blank expressions by students not studying languages. If studying left them any leisure time, they participated in one of their class projects, such as selling food at a game or helping at their dance. Besides these activities, there were band and chorus to occupy their time.

The success of a school year depends entirely upon the make-up of a class, and the sophomores had a good year.

ALGEBRA, AND ADD TO SCHOOL SPIRIT

The promising freshmen predicted the future years for Zelenople High School, and the future appeared to be an interesting and successful one. The hard-working group, made up of ambitious and enthusiastic students, have proven to be capable leaders with loyal school spirit. Being an eager class, they readily joined into senior high activities consisting of dances, games, and clubs. Through the numerous efforts of the teachers and homework assignments, it was soon discovered the year would not be one of leisure. An amount of effort had to be put into their studies to maintain a high scholastic record. Many studied their first year of either Latin or French. Ambitious ones conquered algebra I. Much individual time was spent in the guidance office with Mr. Jamison planning future schedules and preparing vocation reports. To add to its growing treasury, the Freshman Class sponsored a dance which was a huge success. This rounded out a fun-filled year.

The officers of the eighth grade — Keith Dambach, President; Sharon Wilson, Vice-President; John Clayton, Treasurer; and Betsy Kristophel, Secretary; have led one of the largest classes through its first year in high school. In preparation for the new high school there was an experimental group of eighth graders who increased their knowledge of mathematics through the study of algebra.

Aside from studies, the eighth grade also participated in various clubs and organizations of the school. Sponsoring a dance and selling food at a basketball game were two of their projects.

High school baffled the seventh graders the first day of school, but after many weeks the objectives of learning self-government and taking on responsibility came easier as they progressed through the year. Student Council members worked throughout the year planning their own dances and assemblies. On Special Assembly Day the seventh graders were seen marching to Zelenople High School to watch the many interesting assemblies. One of the biggest parts of our cheering section at football and basketball games was composed of the loyal fans of the Home School. They learned the cheers right at the beginning of the year and joined with the upper classmen to cheer the Golden Bears to victory. Both the boys and the girls kept physically fit by participating in intramurals and basketball. The girls learned the skills of cooking and sewing through home economics, while the boys were busy building many different household items in shop. This year has truly been a new experience for the seventh grade.

GRIDDERS GRIT FINALLY HITS PAY DIRT

Zelienople's 1962 Golden Bears brought forth both excitement and disappointment throughout the gridiron season. Starting the season with an inspired, spirited team, the Bears proved that they were worthy opponents for a highly rated Avonworth. The following Friday, the Bendersmen opened their home stand with an explosive offensive attack which overpowered Mercer, 26-0. Traveling to Shenango, the Bears met up with a fired-up Wildcat team and came out on the short end of a 19-0 score. Bouncing back from the defeat at the hands of Shenango, Zelienople traveled to Knoch to battle the Knights to a 12-12 deadlock. The Bears returned home to encounter the Union Scotties, only to lose by a one point deficit. The offensive team seemed to slack up tremendously at Mohawk as the oversized Warriors overpowered the Golden Bears. Zelienople's next game was with its number one rival, Mars. Capitalizing on costly Zelienople miscues and poor defense, Mars went on to squeak out a 27-26 victory. At Bellevue, Zelienople's offense and defense began to click once again. The reappearance of the point after touchdown was the deciding factor of the tight contest. After many close ball games, the Bears came back strong to end the 1962 campaign with a smashing 33-8 victory over Laurel. This was the final appearance for eight seniors. They were Pat Cunningham, left halfback; Joe Dambach, right halfback and co-captain; Dave McCoy right end; Junie Rape, quarterback; Ken Rape, left guard; Dave Skurcenski, left tackle; and Gary Werner, center; Les McCormick, quarterback and co-captain. The two senior managers, Harry McClelland and Bill Wilson, also left the team after four years of devoted service.

Coaches Mitchell, Bender, and Lane plot strategy for the coming practice sessions and discuss the importance of precision ball handling.

Junie Rape, quarterback and halfback, displayed an excellent aerial attack and brilliant signal calling.

Gary Werner proved to be a valuable center and a defensive mainstay.

Pat Cunningham, small, but swift, halfback, was the Bears' leading ground gainer and scorer.

Joe Dambach, halfback and co-captain, gave the Bears added punch to their running game.

Les McCormick mixed offensive brains and defensive brawn while serving as quarterback and co-captain.

Dave Skurcenski, a spirited tackle, opened many holes for the Zelig backfield.

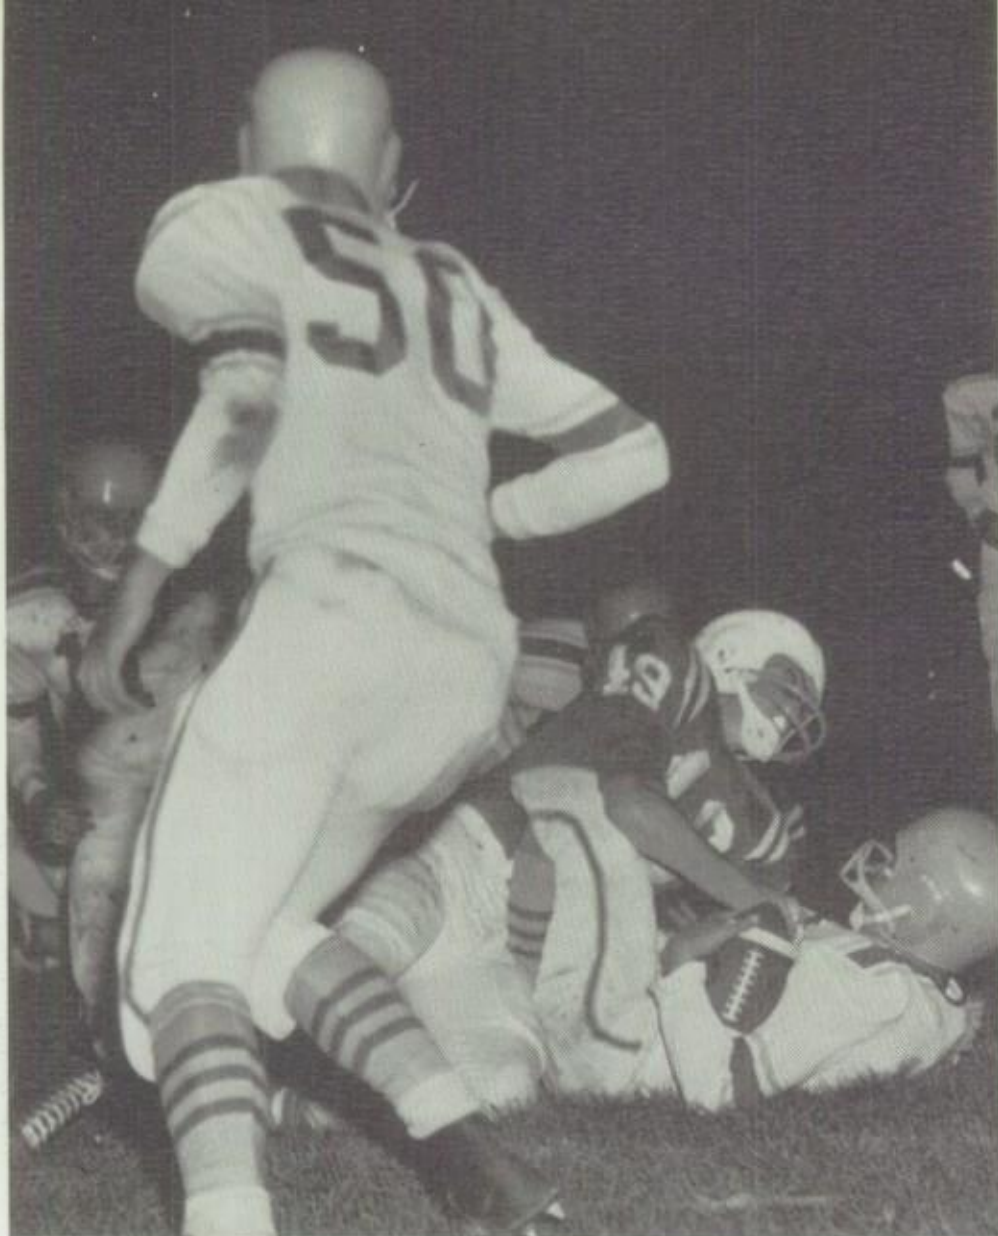

Dave McCoy, although the smallest lineman, accounted for many blocks and tackles.

Ken Rape exhibited fine blocking and hard defensive play as left guard.

A line miscue causes Larry Davison to be thrown for minus yardage.

Senior managers, Harry McClelland and Bill Wilson, perform their familiar assignment of arranging team equipment.

Joe Dambach powers his way for a valuable first down.

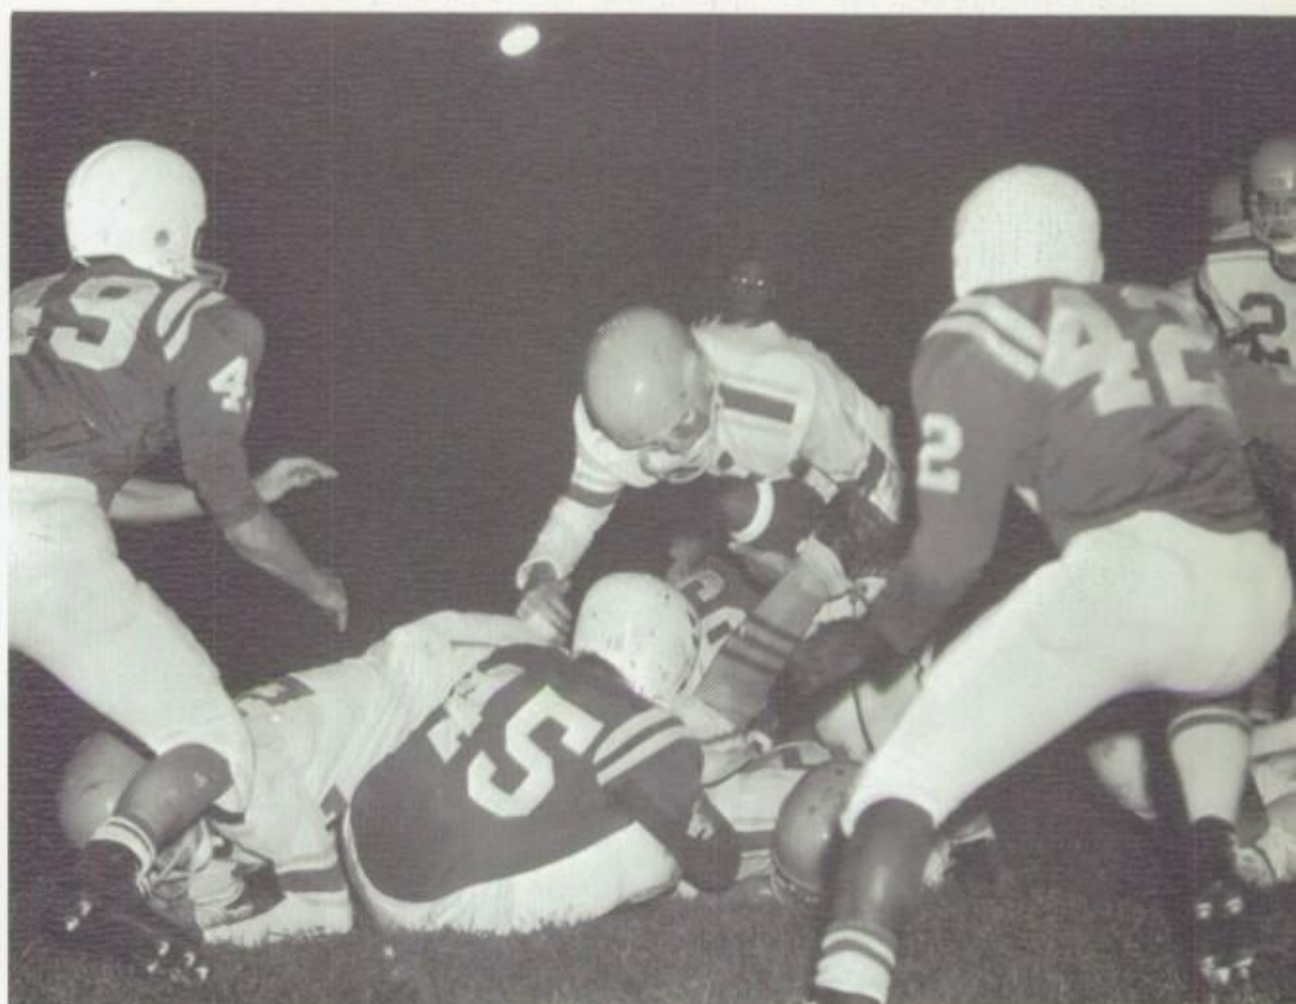

Scatback Pat Cunningham turns the corner and breaks loose for another long run.

Coach Bender displays his anxiety during a tense moment of a close game.

Larry Davison plunges through the center of the Mercer line.

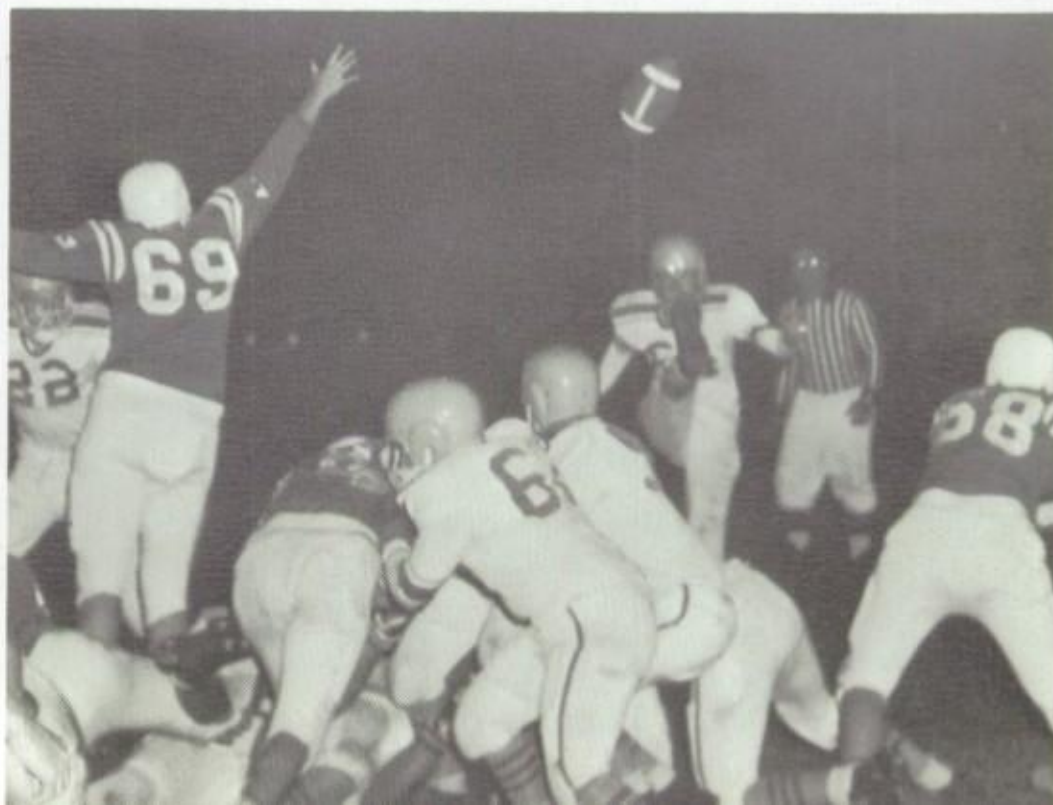

Missed blocks cause the Zelig ball carrier to be tackled after a short gain.

After receiving kickoff, Les McCormick is stopped by a rugged Mercer tackler.

Zelig linemen hold defenders as Terry Kennedy's placement splits the uprights.

CAGERS BATTLE FOR DIVISION TITLE

Starting From The Bottom: Left to Right: Coach Nelson, D. Meyers, D. Skurcenski, J. Dambach, L. McCormick, B. Tait, D. McCoy, P. Cunningham, R. Baney, E. Cullin, L. Davison, C. Meyers, T. Kennedy, B. Wilson, H. McClelland, mgrs.

The 1963 Bears combined height with bench strength as they once again engaged in battle with their Section 20 rivals. With Dave Skurcenski, Den Meyers, Carl Meyers, Terry Kennedy, Ed Cullin, Joe Dambach, and Bill Tait all topping the six-foot mark and the hustle of Les McCormick, Pat Cunningham, Rog Baney, Dave McCoy, and Larry Davison, the Bears proved to be worthy opponents for the other seven section teams.

In preliminary action the Bears got off to a slow start as they lost their first three encounters by a total of 14 points. They soundly trounced rival Mars, 52-32, on the Planets' home court as Junior Carl Meyers ripped the cords for 21 tallies. During holiday break, the Bears lost a tough one to an even taller Knoch Knight quintet after leading most of the way. Laurel was the first opponent of the Bears as they swung into league play. Playing on a strange court and having an off night, the Bears dropped another close one, 43-39.

Section 20 is a league of eight teams, of which Zelienville is the only Butler County entry. Known as one of the toughest divisions of the W.P.I.A.L., it has seen quite a few of its champions go on to the state championships.

Den Meyers, co-captain, displayed strong rebounding under offensive and defensive boards.

Dave Skurcenski, co-captain, showed precision shooting and excellent rebounding.

Dave McCoy displayed accurate shooting with his fade-away jump shot and set shot.

Pat Cunningham, short but fast and tricky, produced thrills for the fans with his variety of shots.

Roger Baney disclosed many maneuvers against his opponents in scoring lay-ups.

Joe Dambach exhibited tremendous driving power and speed on the hardwood.

Les McCormick disclosed pin-point accuracy from the foul line and turned out good defensive work.

Coach Skurcenski

While the varsity continued its off again — on again ways, the Cubs consistently continued to hit the win column as they fought to retain the division J.V. title, a mythical crown which they copped last season. Led by the pinpoint shooting of Bill Tait, Larry Davison, and Bruce Zeigler, and the strong rebounding of Butch Frederick, Jeff Moe, and John Theis, the Baby Bears won their first five exhibition contests before dropping a close one to Laurel, 46-42. The J.V.'s showed an intense desire to win and a lot of hustle in hopes of obtaining a starting varsity role next year.

Les provides assurance as Skurcenski juggles the ball.

Dave nets a basket.

Den and Terry fight to retain the ball.

Baney is cautious as Riverside attempts to break through.

Terry captures rebound as Union players wait.

CINDERMEN SPLIT SEASON

Zelienople High's 1962 track team compiled an impressive record while completing a very tough schedule. In dual competition the thinclads won three meets and lost three meets by defeating Laurel, Knoch, and Union. They also had a meet scheduled with Mohawk, but it was postponed because of inclement weather.

The field events were the strong points in the Bears' arsenal, while the track events were an early problem. However, this difficulty was straightened out and the cindermen came on to finish strongly.

For the third year in a row the bears won the Karns City Invitational by a wide margin with 89 points. Of the five participating teams Knoch was the runner-up with 37½ points. In the Tri-County Invitational held at Westminster College, Zelienople finished behind a rugged Mercer team which was first of the ten schools represented.

This year the Bears missed the services of many seniors who were valuable to the team; Jerry Bowman, high jump and mile relay; Jack Shanks, javelin, shot, and 220; George Bartos, shot and discus; John Cooper, 100; and Rich Dlugozima, 100 and broad jump.

Up, and eventually over, flies Leroy Rape, as he attempts to chalk up some points for the Zelig Cindermen.

Clayton leaps triumphantly over the high jump bar to help defeat another opposing team.

Dave, preparing to hurl the discus, feels confident that he will contribute to the victorious day.

Hurling the shot, Gary strains to break the field record.

Vigorously running to end the race with a spectacular finish, Joe, Leroy, and Craig dash to victory.

CLASS RIVALRIES FLARE AS GIRLS BATTLE FOR INTRAMURAL HONORS

At various times during the year, assorted screams, shrieks, and giggles bombarded the ears of any person in or near the auditorium. These sounds could have been explained by any girl playing girls' intramurals or by "Ma" Morgan, the sponsor. There were merely games of girls' basketball, deck tennis, volleyball, or batball being played. Many statements were made about girls' basketball by any boys who happened upon the game and who could stand to stay long enough to watch it. A game of girls' basketball involved shooting for the basket, preventing others from shooting, tackling, and taking care of the cuts and bruises received.

Deck tennis was comprised of throwing and catching a small white rubber ring that seemed to have a mind of its own. Batball, feminine version of that perennial American favorite, baseball, was skillfully played by most girls. Girls' intramurals extended the physical education program, taught girls the fundamentals of good sportsmanship, and provided good times for all the participants.

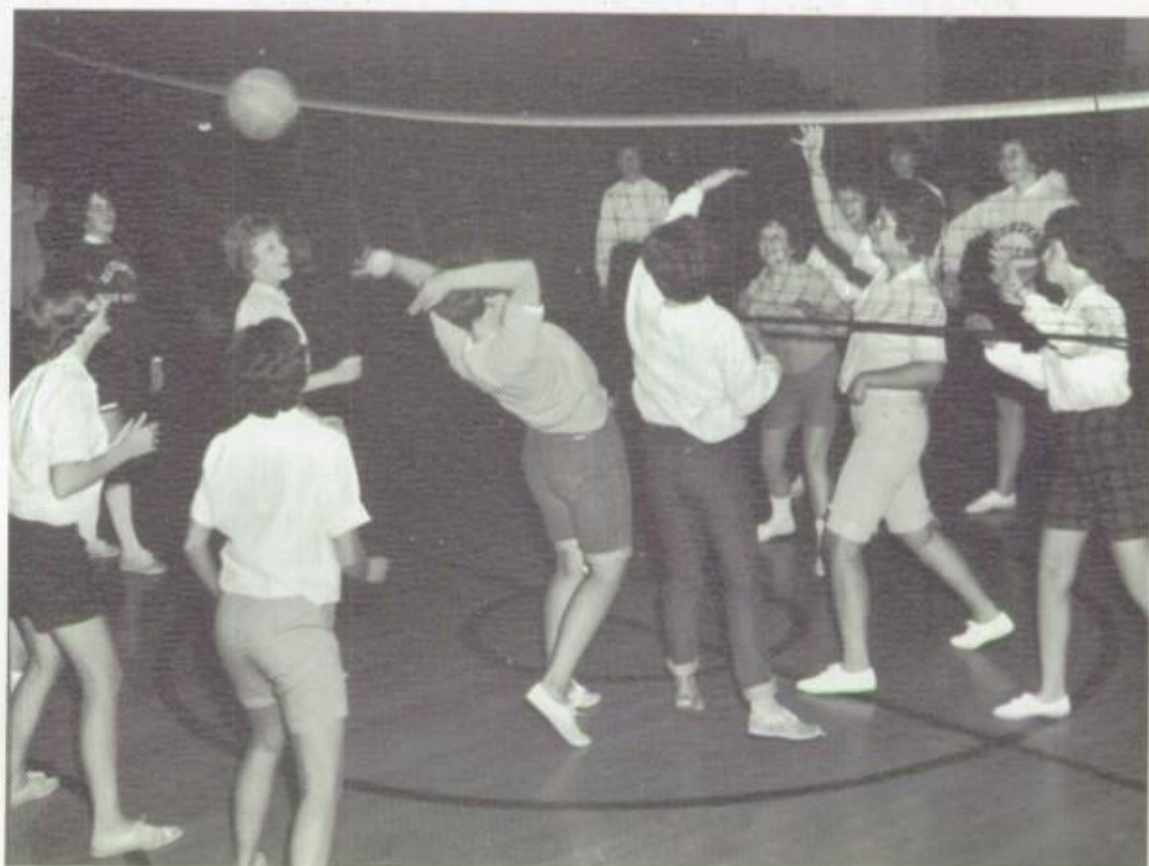

Tournament action closed a spirited basketball season. Heated rivalry sparked the competition as the class teams fought for the girls' basketball championship. In a hot contest, Dunkle attempts unsuccessfully to block Carol's shot. Pam and Karen fight for the rebound as other members of both teams converge. In the rough action under the boards, fouling occurs. Here Mary Lou sinks her foul shot.

During the volleyball tournaments, the girls fight hard to win. Here Beth vigorously returns the ball, scoring a point for the sophomore-freshman team.

The girls fight hard to earn points for a school letter and to bring glory to the class in a volleyball game.

ALMA MATER

When through thy valley, Zelenople, twilight falls,
Bringing its silence to our high school halls,
In that happy moment, love for Alma Mater swells,
And the heart, outpouring, of her glory tells.
Zelenople High School, fairest Alma Mater,
Zelenople High School, may we honor her.

Far from thy valley, yearly rove thy loving sons,
Yet, in their dreaming, e'er thy name returns;
'Tis the same fond spirit, which the memory lingers o'er,
And the lips but echo that old song of yore.
Zelenople High School, fairest Alma Mater,
Zelenople High School, may we honor her.
